

YOUR GIFT: THE RESPITE CENTER TOWER

The facility's design is inspired by the powerful symbol of open arms, representing our heartfelt outreach to families navigating the crisis of cancer. The structure is intentionally shaped to evoke a sense of embrace, with the tower of healing and the tower of hope serving as outstretched arms.

These two towers stand as beacons of strength and support, reaching out to offer comfort, compassion, and encouragement to those in need. The graceful yet powerful architecture reflects our commitment to providing a safe, nurturing space for families to find solace and unity during their most challenging moments.

Together, the towers represent the spirit of care and optimism, a welcoming gesture that invites families into a space of healing, renewal, and hope.

Your Legacy

- The exclusive naming of the Tower of Hope or the Tower of Healing at the For Pete's Sake Cancer Respite Center.
- Name recognition on two proposed locations: prominently displayed in the interior and exterior of the For Pete's Sake Cancer Respite Center.
- Name recognition in all media and social publications extending reach throughout the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic regions.
- Name recognition in correspondence with donors, patients, caregivers and health care professionals in perpetuity, providing exposure to thousands annually in paper and digital form.

YOUR GIFT: TOWER OF HOPE

Tower of Hope

It stands as a symbol of resilience and compassion, offering a sanctuary for families facing the emotional and physical challenges of a cancer diagnosis. Designed to provide comfort and peace, this tower houses 12 family lodging rooms that are carefully crafted to create a calming, restorative environment for families during their respite.

Each room is designed with thoughtful intention to provide moments of connection for our families, with private balconies with a view, a kitchenette, dining table and bathroom equipped to tailor to their needs. Creating an adaptable sleeping environment is critical to providing restful sleep for all family members. The rooms includes two queen beds and a reclining chair to provide the patient with various opportunities to be comfortable as well as remain supported by their caregiver and children. Warm colors, soft lighting, and comfortable furnishings create an atmosphere that feels like a home away from home, providing a sense of security during a time of uncertainty. Large windows in each room allow natural light to pour in, offering stunning views of the surrounding landscape, reminding guests of the beauty and hope that exists beyond their challenges.

The Tower of Hope is not just a place to rest, but also a space that nurtures emotional well-being. Each floor offers communal spaces for families to connect, share experiences, and support one another, reinforcing the sense of community, and breaking the cycle of isolation. Quiet reflection areas, accessible lounges, and calming environments are designed for families to relax and recharge, while on-site programming is available to address both physical and emotional needs.

The tower's design emphasizes tranquility and connection, offering more than just lodging—it provides a sense of stability and encouragement, empowering families to face their cancer journey with renewed strength and hope, together.

YOUR GIFT: TOWER OF HEALING

Tower of Healing

It stands as a sanctuary dedicated to restoring the body, mind, and spirit for families facing the challenges of a cancer diagnosis. This tower contains 8 family lodging rooms and our therapeutic annex, offering a holistic approach to healing that integrates both restful accommodation and therapeutic experiences.

The Therapeutic Annex is a core feature of the Tower of Healing, offering an array of evidence-based programming options designed to promote physical and emotional healing.

The art room provides a creative outlet, allowing individuals and families to express their emotions through painting, sculpture, or other artistic mediums. This form of self-expression offers a powerful way to process grief, fear, and hope in a safe, non-judgmental space.

The Movement and Mindfulness room is designed for gentle chair yoga and meditation, offering families a chance to relax, stretch, and restore balance. These calming practices help reduce stress, ease physical discomfort, and promote emotional well-being.

The Recreational Pool and hot tub provide a space for physical healing and relaxation. The pool's warm waters offer soothing relief, while the hot tub helps to ease muscle tension and promote deep relaxation. These therapeutic amenities are complemented by quiet seating areas where families can bond and rejuvenate together.

The Chapel serves as a non-denominational spiritual refuge for families seeking peace, reflection, and connection during their journey. This tranquil space welcomes all faiths, offering a quiet place for prayer, meditation, and moments of introspection.

Overall, the Tower of Healing creates a nurturing environment where families can find respite from the challenges of cancer. It is a space dedicated to holistic wellness, where healing is supported through a combination of rest, creativity, movement, and emotional support, giving families the strength to face their cancer journey with renewed hope and resilience.
